Press Release

Announcing the Formation Process of “Ye-abronet-Ethiopia”

We Unite; We Win!

Ethiopia is currently experiencing a deepening crisis marked by civil conflict and the threat of economic collapse. The authoritarian nature of the current government, along with its aggressive posture, has undermined law and order, placing the nation’s stability and cohesion at significant risk. Although opposition groups are working to bring about change, they remain fragmented and lack the capacity to effectively challenge the regime. Without meaningful reform and greater unity among opposition forces, Ethiopia faces the danger of further deterioration and potential disintegration.

In recognition of this urgent situation and the limitations of existing political opposition, a group of concerned Ethiopians has formed a temporary committee to initiate a new approach to peaceful political advocacy.

Therefore, we are pleased to announce the launch of the formation process for “Ye-abronet-Ethiopia”, a nonprofit civic organization. This initiative is not a political party and will not seek electoral office. Rather, it will serve as a pressure group focused on driving peaceful, meaningful political change in Ethiopia through civic engagement.

The mission of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia is to build a dynamic platform that fosters dialogue, negotiation, and nonviolent protest. It will promote collaboration among opposition forces based on shared national interests and encourage conflict resolution through inclusive and constructive round-table discussions. In doing so, the organization seeks to strengthen the peaceful struggle, safeguard Ethiopia’s existence, and help lay the foundation for a more equitable and prosperous future.

In this defining moment, it is imperative that all Ethiopians, both within the country and in the diaspora, regardless of ethnicity, religion, or ideology come together to prevent further fragmentation. Ye-abronet-Ethiopia calls upon all who share this vision and willing to work with us. We are particularly seeking the support of individuals with expertise in legal and information technology fields to assist with the development and operation of the organization. Interested parties are invited to reach out using the contact information provided below.

A draft project proposal outlining the goals and framework of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia is attached for your review.

Thank you for your attention and commitment. We look forward to working together to create a brighter future for Ethiopia and its people.

Sincerely,

Lidetu Ayalew

Project Proposal /Draft/:

For the Establishment of “Ye-abronet-Ethiopia”

May 3, 2025:

Executive Summary:

“Ye-Abronet-Ethiopia” is a newly established bipartisan, non-governmental, and non-profit organization, registered as a 501(c)(4). It is committed to strengthening political engagement, promoting social justice, advancing human rights, and upholding democratic values in Ethiopia. Through a robust platform for dialogue, advocacy, and peaceful resistance, the organization aims to foster a more just, inclusive, and prosperous Ethiopia for all its citizens.

Ethiopia is currently facing a profound crisis, characterized by civil war and the looming threat of economic collapse. The government’s failure to uphold law and order has placed the country’s stability in jeopardy. Meanwhile, opposition groups remain in a vulnerable position, unable to effectively challenge the authoritarian regime or drive significant change. If these issues are not addressed, particularly if opposition forces aren’t able to unite around their shared interests, Ethiopia risks complete collapse and disintegration.

In light of the ongoing political oppression and human rights violations in Ethiopia, Ye-abronet-Ethiopia seeks to create a robust platform for dialogue, consultation, peaceful protest and debate on political, developmental, and humanitarian issues impacting Ethiopia and its citizens.

With a clear focus on inclusivity, peaceful resistance, and solidarity, the primary objective of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia aims to promote democratic ideals, foster political participation, and provide effective channels for peaceful advocacy through discussions, negotiations, demonstrations, and collaboration with both local and international partners.

Organizational Structure

Ye-abronet-Ethiopia will operate in full compliance with U.S. law and will be governed by a board of directors responsible for overseeing the organization’s strategic direction, operations, and ensuring the proper allocation of resources. The organization will have branch offices and support groups in Ethiopia, as well as in various regions around the world.

It is important to note that Ye-abronet-Ethiopia is not a political party and does not seek to run for political office. Rather, it is a nonprofit pressure group dedicated to fostering meaningful political change in Ethiopia by encouraging and supporting opposition political groups to unite around a common agenda, with the ultimate goal of preventing the disintegration of the country.

Key Components:

Board of Directors: Composed of individuals with expertise in governance, development, human rights, diplomacy, public relations, Ethiopian political dynamics, etc.

Membership: Open to any individuals both within Ethiopia and the Ethiopian diaspora. Membership will be based on regular contributions (membership fees) and active participation in the organization's initiatives.

Partnerships: The organization will collaborate closely with different media outlets, political and social networks, and international organizations sharing common interests. These partnerships aim to amplify advocacy efforts and foster meaningful public discourse.

Mission

The mission of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia is to ensure the nation's survival and foster a democratic Ethiopia by providing a platform for open dialogue, raising awareness of critical issues, and mobilizing actions that drive social and political change.

Strategic Objectives

The strategic objectives of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia are threefold:

1. Organize Discussions, Debates and Negotiations:

- Host town hall meetings, media forums, and digital platforms to allow Ethiopians and stakeholders to engage in discussions on current issues, alternative political and development policies, and strategic national security agendas.

- Create a neutral space and offer evidence-based solutions to address the pressing political and socio-economic issues affecting Ethiopia.

- Encourage political participation from diverse sectors, including youth, women, and marginalized communities, to ensure broad-based and all-inclusive engagement and representation.

- Encourage warring political groups to resolve their differences through constructive round-table discussions and negotiations.

2. Coordinate Demonstrations:

- Organize peaceful protest campaigns, rallies, and public demonstrations aimed at drawing attention to the Ethiopian people's struggles and advocating for democratic reforms and justice.
- Mobilize citizens to voice opposition to government policies that violate human rights and perpetuate political repression.
- Provide logistical and legal support to ensure that all demonstrations are conducted in a peaceful and lawful manner.

3. Promote Peaceful Resistance:

- Advocate for non-violent forms of resistance to oppressive governance, while emphasizing the importance of unity and cooperation among Ethiopian political parties, activists, media outlets, and civil society groups.
- Foster a sense of solidarity among politicians and activists, irrespective of ethnic, religious and ideological backgrounds, to build a united front for democratic change.
- Encourage political parties and the public to challenge the government by actively participating in election process.
- Offer training and resources for peaceful protest techniques, non-violent communication, and strategies for effective political activism.

Approachs

Ye-abronet-Ethiopia will adopt a multifaceted approach to achieve its objectives, utilizing both on-the-ground and online platforms to maximize its reach and impact. Key elements of the organization's methodology will include:

- Community Engagement: Through grassroots engagement, we will ensure that the voices of ordinary citizens are heard, and their concerns are addressed in our advocacy efforts.
- Media Partnership: By leveraging the power of media, we will amplify our message, reach a wider audience, and create a space for Ethiopians to express their views and share their experiences.

- Advocacy Campaigns: We will design and implement targeted advocacy campaigns to raise awareness on critical issues such as human rights violations, political freedom, and the need for democratic reforms.

- Training and Capacity Building: To strengthen the abilities of politicians, activists and citizens in Ethiopia, Abronet-Ethiopia will provide workshops, seminars, and online training sessions focused on human rights, civic engagement, and non-violent resistance strategies.

Funding and Sustainability

To ensure the long-term sustainability of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia, the organization will rely on a diversified funding model that includes:

- Membership Fees: Regular contributions from members, which will help cover operational costs and fund advocacy activities.

- Donations and Grants: We will seek support from international organizations, philanthropic foundations, and individuals who share our commitment to democratic values and human rights.

- Partnerships: Collaborations with like-minded organizations and advocacy groups will provide additional financial and operational support.

We will maintain full financial transparency, ensuring that all funds are allocated towards achieving our mission and objectives, and will regularly report on our financial status to our members and stakeholders.

Expected Outcomes

With In the coming three years, Ye-abronet-Ethiopia aims to:

- Establish a widely recognized platform for political debate and discussion on critical issues affecting Ethiopia.
- Raise public awareness about the effectiveness of peaceful methods of resistance in achieving sustainable change.
- Unite opposition political groups, activists, media outlets and civic organizations under a shared, minimal common agenda.
- Empower a new generation of activists by equipping them with the necessary skills and resources to engage in peaceful resistance and democratic advocacy.
- Successfully organize peaceful demonstrations and acts of civil disobedience that shift the balance of power and compel the government to accept public demand.

- Strengthen partnerships with international allies to ensure Ethiopia's struggles for survival and good governance are heard and supported on the global stage.

Conclusion

The establishment of Ye-abronet-Ethiopia represents a pivotal moment in the ongoing struggle for Ethiopia's survival and good governance. By promoting peaceful resistance, inclusivity, and solidarity, we are confident that we can play a vital role in shaping a brighter, more democratic future for Ethiopia and its citizens. This is not only a call for political change but a call to restore the core values of justice, freedom, and equality that are fundamental to any thriving society.

We extend an invitation to all individuals in all walks of life who share our vision of a peaceful and prosperous Ethiopia to join us in this critical mission. Together, we can empower the people of Ethiopia and work towards building a society that upholds democratic principles and human dignity. Through collective action, we can drive meaningful and sustainable change, preventing the disintegration and collapse of our country. This is our moment to unite, to act, and to secure a better future for Ethiopia and its people.
